Comments: I am opposed to increasing logging operations in the Green Mountain National Forest, especially in Telephone Gap. Climate change is the number one issue facing the state of Vermont, the US, and the world. We need to protect as many acres of mature forest as we can, in order to sequester carbon, protect diverse wildlife populations, and ensure that future generations of Vermonters can live in a healthy environment. The old policies of widespread logging are no longer appropriate during this time of climate crisis.
