

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/10/2023 12:37:20 AM

First name: Barry

Last name: Alexander

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Letting trees stand is one of the simplest and most effective ways to combat climate change. This Telephone Gap proposal seems to ignore this simple and obvious fact. Trees play an essential role in our planet's health and it is outrageous that this plan does not take into account their importance. I oppose this plan and think you need to either scrap it entirely or write a new plan that is based in science from this century.