Comments: I live at the foothills of DeerLeap surrounded by forest. In 2004, we had a devastating flood that caused a large mudslide wiping out the back foundation of my house. Upon further investigation, through a man who was a forestry expert, I learned that the mudslide was caused by logging that did not follow proper guidelines. Now, we are looking at the devastation to VT, not to speak of the US and far more. I have 16 grandchildren who deserve to live on the supportive earth that we grew up on. Why would we not want that for our children? Even those people who become rich and "believe" they are powerful must think of their children. Money will not protect anyone from the destruction of our earth from the ongoing rise in heat. We see every day, the proof of this folly. Let's put a stop to unnecessary logging, most especially, our old trees. Let's change the guidelines and put our children first.
