

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/12/2023 1:52:22 AM

First name: Priscilla

Last name: Chakwin

Organization:

Title:

Comments: My family has land in Vermont.

Old growth forests sequester carbon. 86% of carbon released from forests is from logging. Can Vermonters absorb the effects of released carbon from trees which have absorbed it for hundreds of years? That's some hit! Have the health effects of doing this been studied? Nobody has seen any studies. This is an irreversible action and shouldn't be done with the rationale "seemed like a good idea at the time".