Comments: The proposed logging project of Telephone Gap in the Green Mountain Forest is an egregious act of environmental abuse. Up to 92% of the forest scheduled to be cleared in old or mature growth forest. These trees are invaluable for carbon sequestration, wild habitat and keeping affected waterways clean and functioning properly.

There is no excuse to move forward with this project. It is morally, ethically and scientifically wrong. Anyone who moves this project forward is doing irreparable harm to our planet and to future generations who will be subject to an uninhabitable planet if this project and those like it aren't immediately stopped and the human made changes to our climate greatly minimized. Don't pass the buck, stop this logging project. It is a morally and scientifically repugnant act that will cause immense harm to our forest, wildlife, waterways and climate.
