

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/13/2023 9:38:57 PM

First name: Ellen

Last name: Cronan

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Telephone Gap project of harvesting trees is a project designed for quick profits and long-term loss. As a society and a collection of human living on our planet, we need to make decisions based on long-term consequences. It is important to allow old trees to continue to age, absorb carbon dioxide and act as a sink for the carbon dioxide that humanity continues to create.

Please reanalyze this poorly conceived project and do not continue.