

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/13/2023 11:15:57 PM

First name: Karen

Last name: Schabot

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Old growth forests can not be brought back if mistakes have been made. We are in a climate crisis and our trees may save us. We have a dwindling bird population and habitat loss and habitat preservation are of overwhelming concern. These forests are a living ecosystem. Can we learn from past mistakes and support and encourage these forests. The ecosystem

Is a fragile one and very loss of a species impacts all others. Please preserve this forest to help

Support the birds, animals and all that live there. The trees clean out air and are one of the best hopes to reverse the damage that humans have inflicted on our living and amazing planet. Support life in all forms. Please don't make an irrevocable mistake for the sake of us all: humans, birds, insects, fungi and of course the majestic trees.