Comments: This is great news!

I think a challenging but rewarding addition to this idea would be to include horses. I'm a Therapeutic Horseback riding instructor and have seen how horses enrich camaraderie as well as provide new goals and found peace for Veterans. This would also broaden participation for veterans that do not hike independently. Of course this may not be possible with zoning, space and budget limitations. Perhaps a separate non profit ranch down the mountain and trailering horses up. I know of a therapy ranch that is safe, legitimate and is a large operation who would be interested in teaming to help, even if only on their site. Feel free to contact me if equine fit this or any other project you are growing for Heros.

Thank you and my full support to this idea!
