Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/24/2023 5:48:34 PM
First name: Lynne
Last name: Glaeske
Organization:
Title:
Comments: Honestly, it often appears to me that the Forest Service is more interested in the welfare of the logging industry and other extractive/exploitative industries than in the values of ordinary US citizens. Expanding on roads in what is supposed to be roadless areas is one demonstration of this dismissal of citizen values. Is it not enough to preserve wilderness without sucking every last dollar out of our forests? I hope the Forest Service will prove me wrong in this case.