Comments: Do not let the mine expand its tailing pile. The mine already negatively impacts the local watershed and the people that subsist on the land and surrounding marine environment. By allowing them to expand the federal government would be greenlighting more irreparable harm to the area while also jeopardizing the livelihood of those living in the immediate proximity to the mine. Prioritize people over profit and do not let the tailing pile expand. Additionally we will as tax payers have to take the brunt of the burden once Helca like all other mining companies eventually abandons the mine to become another superfund site to be managed by the federal government.
