Comments: I'm in full support of this effort as this is exactly what young and older alike need as they want get into or enhance their riding abilities.  This will instill skills to safely ride multiple levels of terrain with confidence. Having a beginner and advanced section meets the needs of most riders and offers the opportunity for beginner and others to progress.

Excellence use of our multi-use lands and great way to introduce our young people to a hobby that has given me a lifetime of enjoyment.
