Comments: Regarding the following:

B. Day Use Facilities.

d. Construct a group day use area with a shelter at Last Chance Campground, near the Ward Creek Trail entrance (Figure 7) similar in style to those in the Ward Lake Day Use area, constructed with wooden posts and beams. The covered area would be about 45 feet by 35 feet, open on all sides, with a concrete floor and two picnic tables.

Because of the likelihood of inclement weather in Ketchikan, one of the rainiest places in the world -- I would like to suggest that the shelter have at least one solid "weather wall" and preferably additional side walls (such as the shelters in the Ward Lake Day Use area). Adding the weather walls permits use of the structure even in poor weather as the walls will help to block wind and rain.
