Comments: Hello - I feel that while planning this project you must consider the wildlife such as the Buffalo. What impacts will be felt by the wildlife that already live in the area of the proposed project? I also think that when considering Rendezvous Nordic Ski Area Improvements project the impact to the very sensitive landscape needs to be considered. This includes erosion, the rivers and what tree life will be impacted. If you can not complete these improvements in a good way that helps and strengthen the wildlife and nature that is there then it should not proceed forward. One statement that sticks with me when I thinking about ski areas and recreational plans in nature is "No Desecration for Recreation". Please take this to heart and please consider what is best for the earth and not necessarily for human needs.
