Comments: I support expanding and upgrading the trails in the Log Chutes area especially for mountain biking. Due to the topography with a steeper grade and a road access this area would be ideal for a trail hub. This would involve expanding the Log Chutes parking area and creating an easy green up trail that goes to the top of log Chutes then continues to the Animas overlook. From these two points the existing downhills could be reworked and others added to end up back at the TH. The vision would be 3 trails coming down from top of LC and Animas Overlook of various difficulties to align with modern mountain bike trail design. The old DH 2 miles above Animas Overlook could also be reworked as another option to spread out users. I would also support reworking the old Barnes Mountain trail at the Animas Overlook and making that a hiking only option as it would provide great views and a backcountry experience close to a TH and road. Thanks
