Comments: With this project, we can provide the opportunities and increased access that motorized users are currently seeking and will continue to pursue as their skills develop. Creating these educational experiences supports the RRMMC's goals of fostering stewardship and responsible recreation.

There is a need among Rampart Range's users for intermediate, advanced, and true beginner's riding opportunities where trail riders can learn to operate a dirt bike in the manner that is necessary for the challenges they will face on the trail. Rampart Range's visitors are looking for a designated place for education and practice. Currently, there are no designated educational opportunities at Rampart Range for skills development for true beginners and experienced motorized users. Riders that have the skills to ride over a log or navigate challenging terrain are more likely to stay the trail when they face these obstacles on the trail. More and more new riders are entering the sport and many riders today are looking for additional challenges.
