Comments: while this proposed final plan removes some of my objections, the main problem with this final option is the a new visitor welcome center which is unnecessary and will block the view of the glacier from the parking lot closest to the lake. the existing visitor is adequate, and if not can be remodeled. a visitor shelter could be located at the overflow parking lot next to bus parking which would not block any views and take care of visitors waiting to board a bus.

I have used the glacier area for 50 years without a "welcome center" and see no need for one today.

again, I am managing partner of one of Juneau's cruise ship docks, so my comments should not be viewed as strictly for local residents, but for cruise visitors as well. I think that building will diminish rather than enhance the glacier viewing experience.
