Comments: To whom it may concern,

I strongly object to this project. There is no concern from these companies for the areas they wish to mine and less concern for the people it will have an effect upon. Their goal is simply financial gain with no regard to the impact on residents, landscapes or environment they would destroy. The potential for contamination to our water supplies from this activity is far too great and something that will affect us all for untold generations to come. This must be prevented at all cost.

Sincerely,

Michael Hughes
