Comments: The land inside of Spearfish Canyon is priceless and awe-inspiring.

To think that this beauty could be altered due to a financial gain for resources that are not necessary for human survival, well it is just unfortunate.

I visit SD from Wyoming. We frequent the canyon and surrounding towns as local tourists, enjoying the scenery and amenities. We were married in Spearfish Canyon. It is a sentimental location for many, from MANY areas. It would be such a loss for the black hills to no longer have access to the canyon in its natural state.
