Comments: The Black Hills have had enough devastation over the years at the hands of profit-focused endeavors.

This is not the 19th century; gold is no longer the most valuable thing a man can possess. In the 2023, the most valuable resource is our environment: clean water and clean air, a place that humans, plants and animals can all thrive. We cling to this in our corner of the Black Hills. To approve this project is to exploit and endanger the our most precious asset, at the expense of those who call Spearfish home.

My family and I stand firmly against the Golden Crest project; that last thing we need is a path forward for more mines.
