Comments: The Black Hills is sacred land in so many ways. Land like this with quality like this does not exist elsewhere. It is one of a kind. We need to preserve as much of this land as possible, for the lands' sake, wildlife's sake, and human's sake. This land is a gift, and we need to preserve this, no matter how beneficial the advantages of taking from the land. Honor this land, honor its history, honor its future.
