Comments: This evening process was designed to divide and conquer. Each individual had to approach a station and be told "they couldn't answer my questions", not their specialty.

Would be appropriate if full size maps were available at libraries - "online" is not appropriate in a community with our lack of internet access and not readable on home desktop screens. Make it hard and hope we go away??

Trees over 21" should be left - How about counting the loss of carbon offset for the next growth cycle (100 years)
