Comments: I want to go on record as opposing the Golden Crest Exploration Drilling #62590 project. As a native of this area, I treasure the serenity, beauty and pristine features it possesses, and fear that this project would negatively impact the quality of life for the people and animals that live nearby. Once the delicate balance has been disrupted, it will be exceedingly difficult, perhaps impossible, to reverse the damage. I highly encourage the implementation of a thorough environmental impact study before any final decision is made. There is a history of mining companies making promises, but not following through. What we have in the Black Hills is worth far more than any elusive "benefits" that any mining company could ever provide.
