Comments: I think the issues here are obvious. We are an area that lives on the opportunities this land provides, from tourism, hunting, fishing, hiking, biking, etc. This isn't a vast forest with sprall8ng acres. The Black Hills are small and as we seen with logging, even a little bit of overuse of the land and we see the negative affects. Our gold is being able to enjoy these outdoors in an area that still remains fairly clean. Clean water has a life value far exceeding that of gold, unnecessary to our survival al all. Use common sense and keep this out of our Black Hills!
