Comments: I would oppose the mining and exploration of the area. I grew in a mining family and favor mining in the right location. This location is not the place for mining. The recreation and wildlife opportunity that are established in the area far out way the benefit of mining operations and negative impact on the area that they would be mining. The economic impact during and long after the mine has left would be hard to recover from. I love this area and people come from all over the world to play in this area and mining this area would take all of that away, summer and winter.
