Comments: I urge restraint on this project. Too often we manipulate the environment and end up with unintended consequences. This is a beautiful area that has led to some of my finest moments in life, and I would like to see it impact younger generations as well. A fire may consume it, but that is a more natural ending. I do not trust that a logging company, with monetary incentives and little or any oversight, will have the wherewithal to be careful and sensitive to the area. If they make mistakes, I seriously doubt that there would be much/any repercussions. I strongly oppose the midnight logging project.
