Comments: The U.S. dept of Forestry must leave all indigenous lands alone. Sacred sights do not belong to the U.S. government or its affiliates but do belong to the people of this country, who will protect it. How dare you all, continue to push your white supremacist narrative when your destroying our planet and lands and waters. You should all be ashamed of yourselves, have the Indigenous not suffered enough under your racism and discrimination for centuries. You think now the American people will stand idly by while desanctify sacred territory, you must be mistaken.

Sincerely,

Veronica Matus Godoy
