Comments: The Black Hills have been overly mined, all of which is wrong as this goes against the wishes of the as the Supreme Court ruled rightful caretakers of this sacred land, the Lakota Oyate. Mining has already defaced, desecrated, and polluted this land and it's water. Risking the health and well being of the land and the people who live here is and always will be wrong, therefore we need to protect this land from any further destruction from extraction.
