Comments: Well, I am a native that believe's we must make a change! Haven't corporation's made enough money? How much money is enough? Where dose this destruction stop? When will corporations start taking responsibility for there devastating destruction to the environment? We only have one plant! There is no plan B. Why? Well, because corporations rather enrich themselves, for get the rest and generations to came as long as they get there's now. This type of mentality needs to end, we can't and don't have more time for this state of mind. Please I ask you help us make the change we need to evolve with nature and not advance with out her. Take a moment to imagine... where would we be if we where truly for the people, if we where truly one with our environment, if we respected and gave back. Can you see? Don't you think your pockets are fat enough? Can't you just start to change, to give back to the environment, instead of always taking. Please I ask that you take that moment to really think of the impact, that has been made to our planet. Take a real close look of your actions, the time has come to stop thinking with your pockets and start to really think of how will we survive; if we continue down this road.
