Comments: I am in full support of the National Forest Service's planned land exchange (Locke Park Land Exchange) with Rainbow Trail Lutheran Camp ("RTLCL"). As a retired pastor, I am familiar with the positive, lifelong impact that RTLCL has on children and families.

As an avid hiker in National Forests, I believe the exchange benefits the public because it returns forest that the public can use in exchange for leased land that is dedicated to a camp. RTLCL's planned voluntarily grant of a land conservation easement further protects the national forest. I also like the exchange because it closes a hole in the Locke Park area of the Wet Mountain Range."
