Comments: I'm against the expansion of the East Boulder min Tailings Storage Facility. I believe the solution provided is not environmentally sound and other solutions better for the long term 'cohabitation' of mining and environmental interests in a beautiful and delicate area. The use of the dry stack tailing (or dewatered tailings) is a much more sound process and would reduce/eliminate the possibility of a dam breach causing long term and possibly irreparable damage to the area below the dam.

This project is ill-conceived and is not wise land management.

Please deny this the opportunity to move forward.
