Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/8/2023 5:27:55 PM
First name: Tom
Last name: Agnew
Organization:
Title:
Comments: I do not believe the uniqueness of the Boulder River Valley has been fully considered in the planning for expansion of the tailings facility. The absolute uncertainty of global weather and the likelihood of previously unimaginable extreme conditions call for impoundments that go beyond "state of the art " and are likely impossible to construct. As demand for PGM decreases so will the price. The wise choice in my opinion would be to opt for option #1 and cease operations when storage capacity is reached.