

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/18/2023 10:49:17 AM

First name: Jesse

Last name: Wells

Organization:

Title:

Comments: While I agree that habitat work will help some animals, I hunted Big Perry a couple times about 4 years ago and walked 15 miles according to my GPS without flushing a single bird. I had and still have an excellent setter, I usually have no problem getting my daily limit in Wisconsin when weather permits. I just hope you are not doing more work hoping something will show up that is not there to do so. I haven't hunted there in about 4 years due to not liking walking 12-15 miles per day and not getting a single flush, I had already given up the thought of shooting a grouse, just wanted to get the dog a bird to point and hear and see one flush.