Comments: There is no excuse for allowing more of our public lands to be abused by prioritizing grazing and other special interests at the expense of native wildlife. I am sick of having our land trust used to fill the coffers of private concerns.

The legacy of wild and unspoiled lands is one of the greatest bequests that one generation can bestow upon another. I urge you to please uphold the spirit of the wilderness designation and help to preserve these pristine and irreplaceable natural areas for our children and theirs beyond them to enjoy in their native state.

The grazing of sheep does not comport with the stated ideal of maintaining "an area of undeveloped Federal land retaining its primeval character and influence" and any grazing allotment waived back to the Forest Service should be closed.
