

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/22/2023 9:17:50 PM

First name: Donna

Last name: Davis

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Our wild lands do not belong to ranchers. They belong to the population as a whole, who want them guarded for future generations if there are any coming with this horrible climate change. Without the cover of vegetation (which sheep eat down to the roots) our soil is lost and baked hard, increasing runoff and flash flooding as we are seeing in many places today.