Comments: It is beyond disgusting our public lands are used for livestock grazing. It is WELL past time to stop pandering to farmers and animal killers. These lands are for OUR wildlife, to live as Nature intended. Everything we do is about money, it seems - not about the health of our ecosystems, our animals, our planet. Humans are the most destructive species to ever inhabit this planet. Time for us to reevaluate our priorities and give our wild creatures a clean, undisturbed place to live. We don't need to eat cows and sheep, etc. That, too, is disgusting. We must adopt a healthier lifestyle, which in turn will give our wildlife the possibility of living a normal life...and people should be respectful and support this vital concept. It is thrilling to see an animal in its own habitat, living its best life. Not in a zoo, not on a plate. We are the species who needs to change and clean up our act. We have been catastrophically bad for this poor Earth. NOW is the time...
