

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/26/2023 3:55:15 AM

First name: Frederick

Last name: Johnson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: As a retired livestock producer who used only private land to graze my stock, I object to the outdated practice of permitting stock to graze on public land now that research has shown the ecological damage grazing by domestic stock causes. There is ample, non public, quality grazing land across the northern US to support a viable livestock industry. It is past time to remove domestic stock and allow the resident wildlife to return and prosper.