Comments: This proposal is a disaster for the hundreds of thousands of taxpayers who regularly enjoy and treasure the joy of these wilderness acres on an annual basis, not to mention the future generations who will do so and older generations which savor memories of doing so. The affected area is most proximate to the population centers of the Northeast, by contrast to others in northernmost New England.

Now a retired lawyer, previously having a substantial pro bono practice, I am hopeful that the current pro bono bar will be prompted to file an action on behalf of a class that will include me.
