Comments: I am writing about the goose Creek & bear canyon gas brake project. I think this is a very terrible idea. To continue to erect these fossil fuels projects is literally choking the planet to death. The construction would cause irreparable harm to nature, wildlife & animals. It would cause biodiversity loss of life which would stress already suffering species due to the extinction crises. Nature and wildlife are best left in the wild under the watchful eye of God and mother nature not being sold out to construction projects for private corporations and certainly not for fire management. Please do not approve this project. Thank you for your time
