

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/19/2023 12:46:59 PM

First name: Mike

Last name: Kintgen

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Cutting spruce forest could negatively impact rare plants, threatened habitats, and wildlife habitat. The access need by large machinery into these areas could also negatively impact watershed quality. I am opposed to logging in the Black Hills for spruce given the steep terrain this species is often found on.

Continue to log ponderosa pine to sustainable levels.