Comments: It is about time that Holden Canyon is connected to California Gulch and Warsaw roads. I'm assuming that the road up and around Bartlett Mountain will still remain though? I have no issues with this new construction but I am wondering about the existing Border Fence Road, will it remain intact? The Border Fence Road is extremely steep and with the new Holden Canyon connect will help reduce the steep grades for vehicle access from the Gulch to Tres Bellotas Roads. A couple issues though that will need to be mitigated: will the Agave Parviflora Cacti create an issue and the area will need to be surveyed for the Desert Tortoise? With past projects in the California Gulch/Warsaw Canyon Roads, either the cacti could be relocated or replanted by seed. I do know that there are a few Sahuaro Cacti in the area so I'm hoping that the road will bypass the Sahuaros?
