

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/18/2023 3:26:16 AM

First name: Tom

Last name: Mudrak

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I don't think a permit system works due to staffing. Limiting vehicle traffic above the outhouse in yankee boy is a good idea. The biggest thing is campers really. There should prob be established campsites and a reservation system for them at blue lakes, and a pit toilet is probably needed too. Wag bags won't work, and people won't pack out their TP. But as long as I can camp in my car at the trailhead and not have limitations on parking/entry before 6am, it's probably needed.