Comments: User management is sometimes required in areas like this; however reducing annual visitation from 35,000 to 8,000 is far too large a step. Going from 144 camp sites to 4 camp sites is also far too large a step. So many great places now require reservations and permits and it adversely affects the public's ability to enjoy our lands.

Please don't cut the number of users so drastically - perhaps 16,000-20,000 visitor days and a selection of 30-40 campsites. Also please make sure that there is the ability for couples, families and groups of friends to get permits together.
