Comments: As an avid backcountry user, I enjoy the peace and quiet of the wilderness areas free from motorized nuisances. I also appreciate human-powered travel and the safety of not having to worry about getting run over in the backcountry.

I support limiting OSV use to the current OSV areas in the eastern sierra & Inyo National Forest. Any expansion of OSV areas is in direct conflict with human-powered methods of recreation. Motorized travel also signficiantly increases greenhouse gas emissions and noise pollution in and around these wilderness areas. Furthermore, it's often difficult to determine position to potential OSV-allowed areas vs. restricted areas, so the chances of motorized vehicles getting outside their allowed areas is likely with any expansion.

Please do not expand OSV use beyond where they are currently allowed.
Thank you for your time and consideration of my comment.
