Comments: im am against all burning - first it adds to the carbon in the atmosphere when we are already in a climate catastrophe crisis. Second, it can easily get out of control and start a major forest fire, which we see all too often. The Forest service should be putting to use manual labor over burning. Do not use tools that can spark. It is absurd to argue that burning helps quell climate change when in fact it contributes to it. And third, how can you possibly protect the wild animals from the burn?

Instead you should arrest humans who encroach on the forest, grow pot illegally, steal water.

Time to wake up to actual science and physics and stop doing the same old bad thing.
