Comments: I am completely opposed to project #57392 of cutting in the White Mountain National Forest. Daily we are bombarded with projects in towns and private properties that destroy trees, wildlife habitat, waterways and ecology that are killing our planet that we cannot stop. If we can have any protection at all within our lands, let's at least have it within our National parks. Our earth needs so much more to survive, but can we at least have the parks protected? So many times they disguise these projects as for the "good of the wildlife or the ecology". These are excuses to gain what the humans want. Leave mother nature be. She adapts. Always has had to and always will. ALL of us (humans and nature) also benefit from the unspoiled land.
