Comments: I am opposed to e-bikes on Teton Pass. Even mountain bikes are dangerous when riders ignore hikers and speed through areas not meant for such activity. I own an e-bike, but I never ride it anywhere except open flat-ground established pathways. As we have seen here in Jackson, e-bikes are ridden recklessly and riders often ignore traffic laws, pedestrians and stop signs. Such people will not be weeded out from responsible bikers. E-bikes can be very dangerous, they frighten wildlife, harm wildlife and their use should be restricted to areas that are less likely to infringe on pedestrians and hikers of all ages.
