Comments: I have been a Climber now for 25 years. I absolutely love coming to tensleep Wyoming. a few years ago, I was actually in Wyoming when people decided to come and remove bolts from the rock. It caused a lot of stress and anxiety to the ones that were Climbing. It was very unsafe. I was on one climb where the anchor had been removed. I did not know that until I got up on the rock. It is very important that the area remains safe. I believe that there is a lot more potential for development without adding additional trails or defacing the area. I believe that there can be a plan that benefits all Climber as well as the community of tensleep . The vast majority of Climber are very responsible and even clean up areas. I would like to see more development intense Sleep especially on the shaded areas. This would disperse a lot more people and less stress to local areas. Many of the Climber, I know that route development, are very responsible, thank you for your time
