Comments: It does not seem to me that the Forest Service should be setting fire to designated Wildernesses - I believe that the agency should allow natural fires to play their role in these wilderness areas. Animals cannot run from the larger burns but they know the sound of thunder and lightning storms and can get to safety, Controlled burns kill thousands of animals and we need to protect them as well as all the flora and fauna in the wilderness areas.

Some of America's most loved Wilderness areas are at stake, including the Ansel Adams, Dinkey Lakes, John Muir, Kaiser, Kiavah, Monarch, South Sierra, Dome Land, Jennie Lakes, and Golden Trout Wildernesses.
