Comments: This dying planet is not just about HUMANS. God made animals, beautiful wildlife, birds to also be a part of this now dying planet, thanks to humans and some natural disasters. Now, more destruction is attempting to take place....WHY...I wonder. To help the poor animals? Guess again. Nothing about trees either. The summary answer is always the same.....make room for humans and the hell with the environment and animals home. Just run over them. Kill them. They are not important. Well, guess again. They are important to me. Important to God who made them. They are having it bad enough already without the new make believe story just dreamed up... John Muir..... glad he is dead to not see this. What a great man he was. I am ashamed that anyone is trying to do this to our wilderness. Natural disasters are horrid enough. It is even more HORRID to have planned disasters such as this crap. Stop this madness. I speak for the wildlife who have no say so in anything. But I hear them screaming for help. WHY CAN'T YOU?
