Comments: I'm writing to beg you guys to protect what we have left we have lost way to much already and our poor planet and the people and animals are suffering for it. Especially our animals which way to many have gone extinct for no reason except for mans greed for more by destroying habitat, our forest and oceans give us oxygen etc....We need to start protecting what we have and do what we can before it's to late for all of us. So please I beg of you again to help save this planet we're on, it's the only one we have.??
